Friends Forever

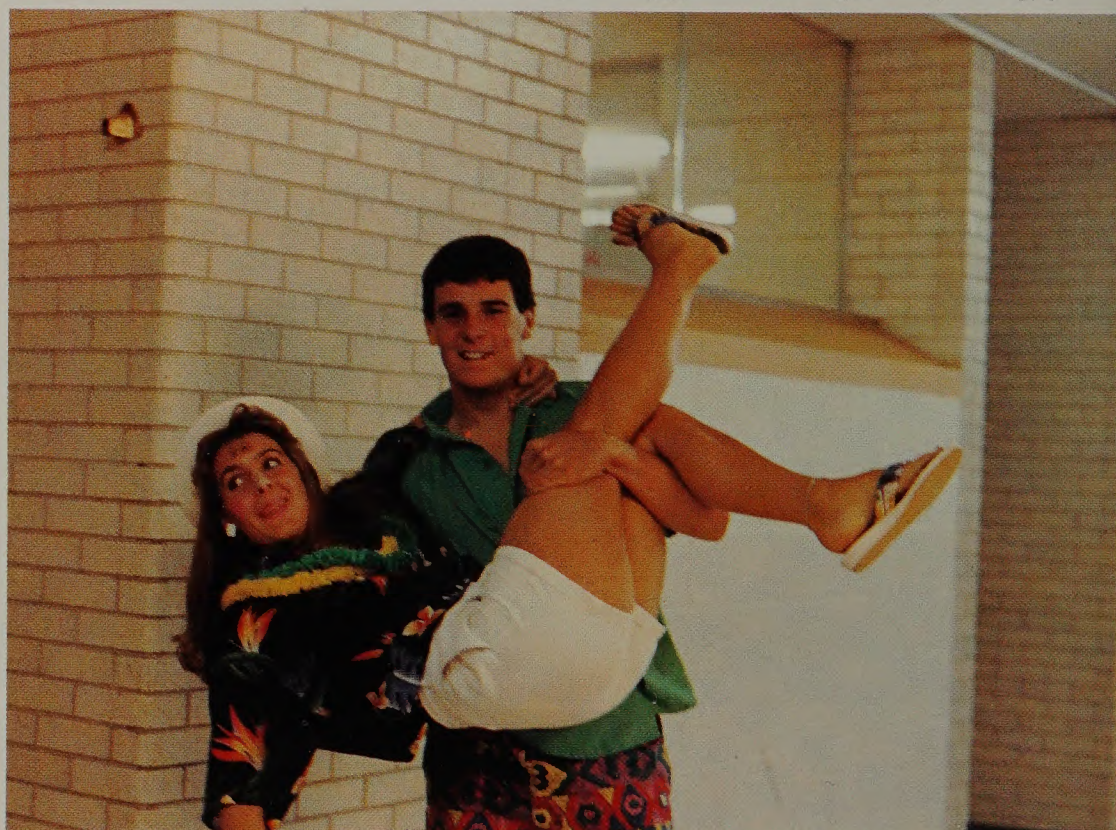

Friends will come and friends will go, but every once in awhile a friend will come who will stick through thick and thin. Many of us have grown up together and have been friends since grade school. These are special friendships, ones we know will last. It is a wonderful feeling, one everyone has shared! Let's not forget about our friends. They are very special people.

Students With Style . . .

When it comes to style,
the students at Arvada West start stepping out of the woodwork. Wildcat style is expressed in many different ways. From clothes to hair, and even their "mean machines," all students have a different way of expressing themselves!

ROWDINESS

R-O-W-D-I-E!

Everybody Get Rowdie . . .

It has been proven in recent studies that Arvada West students, when provoked to be rowdie, respond with great enthusiasm. Friends, fun, and attitudes is the recipe for ROWDINESS. Wherever the Wildcat students roam, sporting events, rallies or just in the halls, find no trouble in being . . .

Breaking The Rules!

Rules are made each day and are broken just as fast. Everyone breaks a rule of some kind at one time or another. From curfews to traffic tickets, A-West students are there to get caught up in the mess. Lessons are to be learned, students get burned, but most of all they are out to have a good time.

Romance In The Making . . .

*Wildcat students often sidetracked from their academic lives and they become interested in other things besides books.
 Lives become merged and relationships develop. They display their affection not only through good times, but also through hardships and disappointments. Many relationships may fizz, but then again many may sizzle. It all depends on the big L

Every student knows that getting through the homework at A-West is no simple task. Many students have stayed up all night long to complete an essay, research paper, or study for one of those famous A-West tests. These long hours and horrible mornings are explained by the teachers as preparation for college . . . if the students can survive . . .

STUDENT LIFE

School is a drag. Activities liven things up a little. Are we having fun yet? Yes! Because we just hit the Activities section! There are many activities at Arvada West that take the hum-drum out of our lives. There is a club for everyone, no matter what size, shape or color that you are. For the people who like to yell and scream, there are the Cheerleaders, Pom Pons, Mat Maids, and groups of students (could these wild people be considered fans?) who avidly follow certain sports around. For the more intellectual type, there are clubs dealing with classes. For people who enjoy being in the spotlight, there are plays and musicals.

Just about the time August ends, and we feel we cannot go on, HOMECOMING comes along and saves us all. The students turn into wild people for about a week, which relieves the pent-up anxieties, tensions, and stress. Some of these frustrations were released on the sophomores. We're sorry! When we hit reality after Homecoming, there is always the excitement of sports to pull us through the long haul to winter break. When we come out of hibernation, we look forward to SPRING BREAK! (Is school in there somewhere between winter and spring break?) We come back from spring break anticipating Prom, which is over a month and a half away. How did we ever survive? We shopped for dresses and tuxes. Prom was a memorable evening that held us together until. . . . GRADUATION!! Graduation is a whole new experience that opens up a lifetime of rewards. Did we have fun? Yes! We made school one Big Activity!

Announcements of "attacking of sophomores will result in suspension" officially declared the start of Homecoming week.

Besides terrorizing sophomores, activities included a day for class colors, and a day for seniors to represent Hawaii and juniors to represent New York. Sophomores had the privilege of representing Oklahoma. There were two assemblies. One had the classes against each other, and the other was class unity with everyone wearing purple and white. Powder-Puff football, food fest and the movie "Hoosiers" were other activities included.

Unfortunately, the Wildcat football team lost to Wheatridge 7-10. It was a close game, and losing in the last 30 seconds didn't stop the spirit of the crowd. As one observer put it, "We all looked like a bunch of happy grapes!" The king and queen were Karen Bossi and Travis Ayers, and the senior attendants were Kim Ponis and Mitch Blain, Julie Sanchez and Jeff Popiel. The juniors were Susan Jenkin and Clint Young. Sophomores were Tina Alonzi and Brian Weakley.

Once again the Homecoming dance was held in the student center. The walls and ceiling were decorated with balloons and glittery stars, creating a romantic effect.

Marching Wildcats

The Arvada West Marching "Wildcats" have maintained a long and outstanding tradition in Jefferson county. This year the band took second place in Lakewood on Parade. The band proudly boasts an outstanding student leadership program. Drum Majors for the band this year were Jim Jacobs and Glen Dunkin. Flag Captains were Kristy Gardner and Steph Welpton. Center Guides and Section Leaders were Derek Temple, Scott Wheeler, Rob Andzik, Michelle Ferdig, Kim Weiler, David Gohn, Karen Melby, Greg Counts, Sherri Hollis, Holly Hutcheson, Jackie Hanke, and Janni Jacobs.

Vocal Showcase

Vocal Showcase, Arvada West's jazz show choir, is made up of selected senior and junior boys and girls. Because the members of the class have had more musical experience, and it is by audition only, it is a very challenging class. The students have to work hard and be committed to what they are doing. The weekly outside-of-class rehearsals proved to be very helpful. VSC also represented Arvada West at numerous festivals and competitions. The dedication of the students paid off in such songs as "Tear Them Down" and "My Country Tis of Thee."

Company West

Company West is composed of junior and senior girls. The members are selected by audition and previous experience. The level of musical ability is high, and the girls must be dedicated. Not only do the students practice in class, but they practice outside of class as well. The Company West girls proved to be outstanding; singing songs such as "There's No Stopping Us" and "Sincerely" and representing Arvada West in many competitions and festivals.

Jazz Ensemble

Jazz Ensemble is open without audition throughout the year to any student wishing to learn and perform good jazz literature. The A-West Jazz Ensemble maintains the standards of high performance on all styles of jazz and contemporary literature. Jazz Ensemble is a group highly committed to outstanding performance.

Concert Choir

Concert Choir is a group made mostly of promising sophomores. The class concentrates mainly on sight singing and reading music. Here, students gain more musical experience in order to advance to one of the more challenging choirs. The students this year have shown some promising talent for the next couple of years to come.

Chorale

Chorale, which is the second step up from Concert Choir for most students, displayed good talent. In Chorale, the attention was focused on classical and a cappella numbers. Palistrina's Sicut Cervus was one of the traditional four-part Chorale numbers they worked on. Students also continued to sight sing in order to strengthen their musical ability.

Jazz Showcase

The Arvada West Jazz Showcase upholds the standards of musicianship and excellence in Jefferson county. The band is comprised of the twenty finest jazz musicians at A-West. Section Leaders this year were: Jim Jacobs, Derek Temple, Rob Andzik, and Brian Bond.

Symphonic Band

Symphonic Band This band is open without audition during second semester to any bandsman wanting to participate in a fine concert band organization. The Arvada West Symphonic Band plays with vigor and excitement, and dedication to performance of all styles of concert band literature.

Wind Ensemble

The Arvada West Wind Ensemble is comprised of A-West's finest musicians. The Wind Ensemble is known for a constant display of talent and enthusiasm, as was displayed in the 1985 Worlds of Fun Festival of Bands, where Arvada West returned with class AAAA awards and the overall sweepstakes award.

On the nights of November 5, 6, and 7, the Arvada West theatre delighted hundreds of people with Mary Chase's classic comedy hit "Harvey." Directed by theatre and English teacher Roseanna Wilkie, the production of "Harvey" proved again that A-West theatre is devoted to excellence.

The play itself centers around Elwood P. Dowd and his friend Harvey, an imaginary 6-foot tall rabbit. In an effort to rid the house of Harvey, Elwood's sister Veta, and his niece Myrtle Mae try to put Elwood in Chumley's Rest, a mental hospital. At the hospital, confusion develops as an ambitious Doctor Sanderson puts Veta, not Elwood, in the hospital. Soon, though, Veta is set free. Dr. Sanderson loses his job, and Elwood agrees to be hospitalized. In the end, Veta realizes that putting Elwood away would destroy him emotionally. In the end, Elwood decides to go on existing happily with Harvey.

All My Sons by Arthur Miller, usually only done by professional theatre companies surprised many who witnessed it not only because of the exceptional acting and the extraordinary set, but because of its attempt at the high school level. Director Roseanna Wilkie and the cast took great risks in performing this highly emotional, tragic play about a family that must finally deal with problems created during WWII in that they had to expose a great deal of their own lives on stage in front of an audience. They also had to expose themselves to each other so that they could become, in essence, a family. Many painful feelings and many joyful emotions flowed into the preparation and presentation of this show. And the results were obvious. Each night sold out. Each night there was a standing ovation. an honor rarely given by audiences. But more than any other way, one could tell that All My Sons was a success, maybe even the greatest achievement reached by a theatre company at A-West, by the tears in each of the actors' eyes after three months of exhausting rehearsals and three, but only three nights, of sheer exhilaration.

Highlights included a top ten finish out of forty schools at the Colorado University Invitational Tournament; a fourth place finish at the Jeffco Sweepstakes Tournament, with many finalists; and numerous finalists at invitational meets throughout the year.

The team always had at least one representative in final rounds in every meet but one this season. Arvada West experienced its greatest success this year in the following events; Duet Acting, Original Oratory, Drama, Humor, Extemporaneous Speaking and Poetry.

Russian Club

The 1987-1988 Russian Club consists of all currently enrolled students of the Russian language. The executive committee includes Jon Fairchild, Jill Koch, Gwen Richards, and Suzanne Sylte.

Russian students take part in both written and spoken "Olympiada" contests, and have traditionally performed extremely well. They also travel great distances (to Boulder, for instance) to see Russian movies and dine in Russian restaurants. Occasional fund raising activities keep the club solvent.

The French Club is still as strong as ever this year, with more than 50 members. During the course of the year, we do various activities including watching french movies, eating delicious foods (French, of course) made by the members, and caroling around an Arvada neighborhood at Christmas time. The year is finished off in the usual tradition of the French Club members dining at an expensive French restaurant in Denver.

Any students interested in French Club are encouraged to attend any of the activities. Just ask a member in a red "Amis" (meaning friends) sweatshirt, and join in on the fun!

The Arvada West German Club, sponsored by Mrs. Asbury (Fraz), has a calendar filled with activities. Led by an executive committee of advanced German students, members participate in culturally enriching social events. Such events range from swim parties and Christmas caroling to dining in fine German restaurants. The organization is high-lighted by the presence of our German exchange students Heike and Karin. This year's club has set a standard of excellence for future club members to follow.

The Spanish club also collected 160 pounds of clothing which was sent to Nicaragua to aid poor families. Other activities included dinners, Christmas caroling, and a farewell picnic at the end of the year.

DECA

Officers: Sammie Cimino, John Ohara, Rodney Wilson.

DECA, or Distributive Education Clubs of America, is an organization whose program of leadership and development is designed specifically for students enrolled in marketing education. DECA is the only national youth organization in the nation's schools to attract young people to careers in marketing and distribution. Arvada West's Chapter participates in several activities: fund raising, leadership conferences, civic activities, and social activities for it's members. In order to be a member of DECA a student must be either a junior or senior in the marketing education program at A-West. Students in DECA have the opportunity to compete in contest testing their skills in Advertising Services, Apparel Accessories, Finance and Credit, Food Marketing, General Merchandising, General Marketing, Quick Service Restaurant Management.

Interact

During the year Interact Club has been proven very successful. The club started out the year volunteering to take care of children from a Women-In-Crisis shelter, with activities ranging from counseling to giving a Halloween party for the Kids. Our Christmas activities consisted of ringing Salvation Army bells and singing carols at a retirement home called the Arvada House. Interact raised over $400 for the Polio Plus organization by putting on a pancake breakfast at McDonald's.

FHA started the 1987-88 season with a basket weaving fundraiser. The money made was to be used for the State Competition held at the Broadmoor Hotel in Colorado Springs. FHA also attended a smaller convention held at North Arvada Junior High. Some of the activities at the convention were: Putt-Putt golf, roller skating, and horseback riding. Because of the smallness of the group this year, FHA could not participate in all of the activities but they had the opportunity to get to know one another better.

The Arvada West Woodworkers' Club is a very formal and serious club. At each meeting we work individually, in a serene, organized atmosphere.

If you believe this story, we have a bridge in Brooklyn to sell you.

This club is a group of people who like to have fun, and who enjoy woodworking. We have group activities such as fund raisers, mass production, and field trips. Everyone works on a variety of projects. This allows us to learn a variety of new techniques. We display our projects in numerous shows in the area, such as the C.S.U. fair.

The club is open to all Arvada West students, whether enrolled in a woodworking class or not. All that is necessary to join is a desire to create with wood.

Ham Radio

This year the Ham Radio club started off with a few demonstrations using the schools two radios. Currently the licensed "hams" are helping others to obtain their FCC Amateur Radio Licenses.

The demonstrations contained such things as interfacing ham radios with telephone lines, as well as talking to other licensed amateurs all over the world.

1987-88 was a year of growth for The Westwind. Visual, graphic changes made the paper very "clean" looking while writing changes focussed on Arvada West and the local community. Under the guidance and direction of advisor Linda Bellacome and editor Brian Watson, The Westwind ironed-out its domestic battles to produce a quality newspaper committed to accurate coverage of A-West's clubs, teams, students, and faculty. The paper also provided ample space for staff writers and students to express their frustrations on almost any subject. With dedicated, ambitious writers, strong leadership, and open-thinking, the 1987-88 Westwind became one of the best publications ever produced at Arvada West. The Westwind appreciates the support it receives from students and faculty and wishes to thank all those who contributed, cooperated, or at least made life easier for The Westwind.

Yearbook

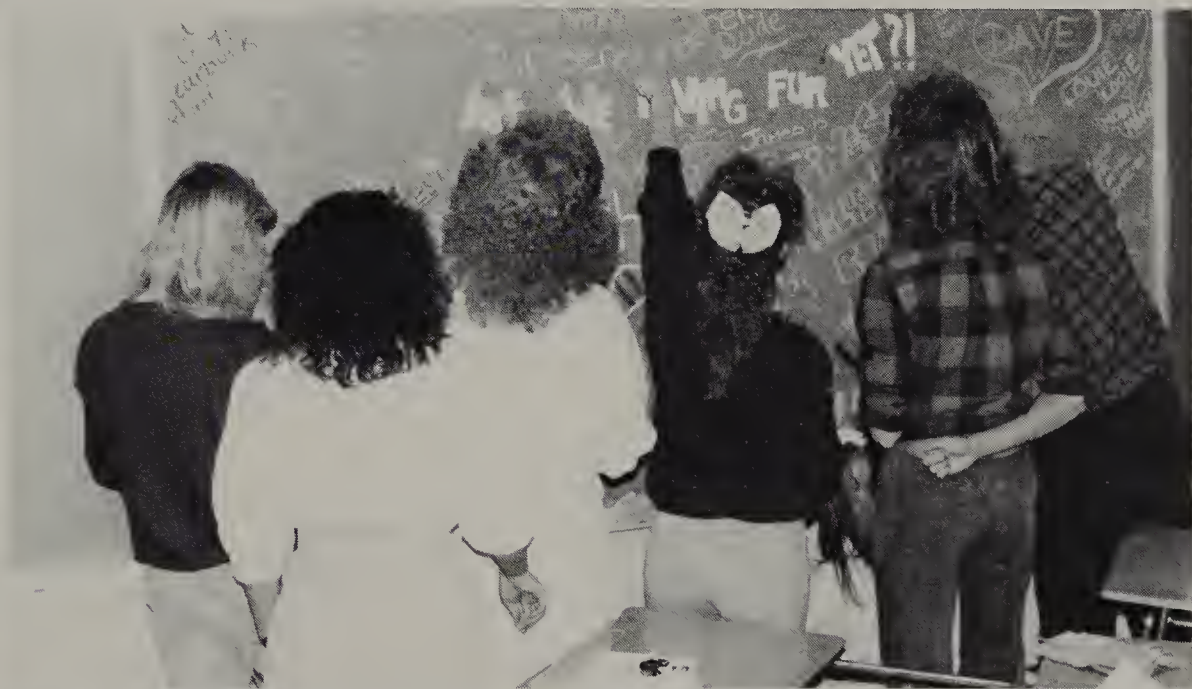

Once upon a time there was a group of hardworking people. They produced the 4-West yearbook, with the help and advisement of Ms. Bellacome. Many hard, long hours went into the final product.

Our very own students took almost all of the pictures this year. They did a great job! The yearbook staff gave up some of their own precious time organizing and gathering information on school activities, sports, clubs and other things.

The yearbook staff appreciates your support and hopes you will enjoy the best yearbook ever May the yearbook live happily ever after.

Character, Service, Scholarship and Leadership are the qualities which build the National Honor Society. Though NHS is based mainly on grade point average, what the student can offer their school and community plays a significant role in the club. Members of National Honor Society keep busy acting as volunteer tutors in all academic areas as well as organizing fund raisers such as a basketball game with the senior boys vs. the faculty members. They also sponsored the annual Scholastic banquet. The success of the 1987-88 National Honor Society is all a result of the determination of its members and the hard work of its sponsors Mrs. Niemeier, Mr. Messer and Mrs. Robertson.

On the evening of Tuesday, April 7, girls from near and far flocked to the Arvada West auditorium to view the few choice men of our school.

To whet the appetites of these love-starved girls, the evening began with the candidates modeling tuxedos. For the musical portion of the show, each contestant was required to perform a rap about himself. Next in the order of events was the talent (or lack of) competition. This particular part of the program proved to be mildly humorous as each contestant sang, danced, strutted, cooked, leaped or jammed his way across the stage. The contestants then lumped all of their talents and personality into one precision pom routine to "Push It."

After a tension-filled fifteen minute intermission, the finalists were announced. They were then each asked thought-provoking questions which proved that these guys were not just another pretty face.

... May I have the envelope please? ...
And the winner is: Chris Partridge.

Future Business Leaders of America, sponsored by Mrs. Yocum, is a great way for people to prepare for the future.

FBLA isn't all work and no play. The organization has many fun activities. The Regional, District, State and National Finals give members the chance to compete against other schools in whatever business skill they do best.

If that doesn't sound exciting, consider the luncheons, parties, dinners and dances that they sponsor and participate in. Along with on-the-job training, they also volunteer in giving help to others through community services. This year they visited nursing homes to help celebrate Halloween.

Science Club

As Johannes Kepler so aptly put, "The diversity of the phenomena of Nature is so great, and the treasures hidden in the heavens so rich, precisely in order that the human mind shall never be lacking in fresh nourishment". This is the nourishment that the Aravda West Science Club thrives upon. Participating in events such as the Metropolitan Science Fair and having guest speakers from companies like Martin Marietta, the club always promotes an interest in the sciences.

Book Club

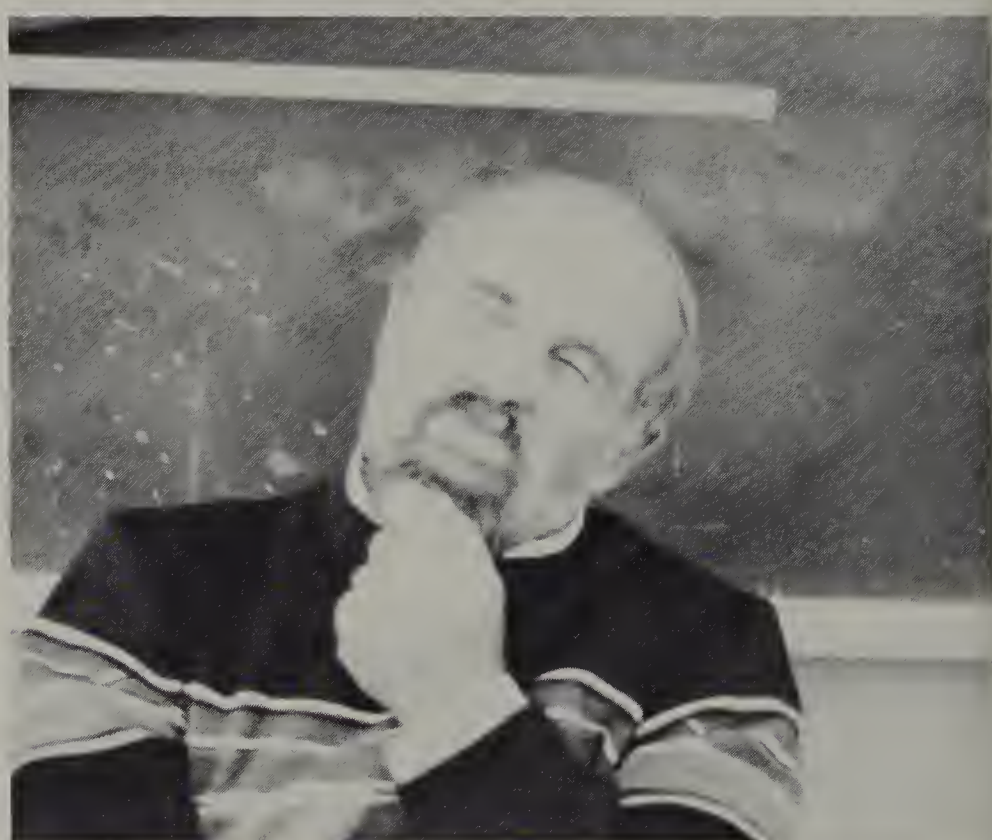

The 1987-88 Blue Spruce Book Club, which has practically doubled since last year, took part in voting for the Colorado Blue Spruce Award, which is presented to the author of a book written in the last ten years.

The members of the club made their own book selections to be read and discussed at each meeting. A few of the selections this year were, The Inferno by John Dante and The Old Gringo by Fuentes.

This year, the Blue Spruce Book Club raised money by organizing a spring book sale at Arvada West.

Peer counselors are a busy group of seniors. They assist new students and help sophomore students during orientation. Peer counselors are always available to listen to students talk about academic, attendance, and any personal problems. These peer counselors were selected from a large group of applicants and have done a superior job of helping Arvada West students.

The A-West CARE team is the new name for the All Stars and SADD. Their motto is "we care" and although they want to educate students about the dangers of drugs and drinking, they also want to do positive things for all students at A-West. One of the group's first activities was to become actively involved in the A-West annual 'Trick or Treat Street off the Street'. The theme was a graveyard scene and two classrooms were decorated and lighted entirely with jack-o-lanterns, which were carved by the art department. The week before Christmas vacation they became involved in the National Drinking and Drugged Driving Awareness week. Red ribbons were passed out all week for students to wear to remind others not to drive while impaired. A human chain was also instigated which wound throughout the school to symbolize that A-West would miss even one link if someone had an accident during the holidays.

Fyziks Fest

The 3rd annual Arvada West Fyziks Fest was a great success. Hundred of students who have a class in Physics, Chemistry, or Biology 2 took part in five fun and exciting events. While most of the students put their ideas into devices for the Capsuled Egg Toss and the Kinetic Vehicle race, there were still many other great inventions that were entered in the Carbide Mortars, the Rockets, and, of course, the cake decorating contest.

The morning's activities were followed by an afternoon picnic lunch with a talent show closing out the day's activities. All in all, everybody who took part in the Fyziks Fest enjoyed themselves. All three classes appreciate all the time and effort that Mr. Harris and Mrs. Roding spent in organizing the 1988 Fyziks Fest for they can only continue to make the day a better one each year.

The '87-'88 poms had a great success this year under the supervision of sponsors Beth Hays, Judy Temple, and Patty Cluck. Michelle Evans was selected as captain of the squad. The long hours of practice started in the summer in preparation of attending the Universal Dance Camp in Fort Collins. The poms received a "Superior" rating for overall performance and a spirit stick for their enthusiasm. The poms attended two competitions this year. In the winter competition, the poms received a "Superior" trophy. After struggling to get ready for the state competition, the poms pulled off a super routine and received an "Excellent" rating.

In addition to attending basketball, soccer, softball, tennis, football, track, wrestling, volleyball, and baseball games, the poms performed routines as often as twice a week, which added to the pressures and the hours of practice that were required of the girls. With all the energy that it takes to promote school spirit, the many hours of hard work are worthwhile when an athlete says to a spirit leader, "Thank you."

The '87-'88 year was off to a great start for the cheer squad. They were led by Steph Zeman and by supporting sponsors Beth Hays, Patti Cluck, and Judy Temple. They were coached by Beth Hohn, former Arvada West cheerleader. The long hours of summer practices began in June and ended at UCA summer camp at Fountain Valley High School in Colorado Springs. They proudly brought home a superior squad camp trophy, along with a spirit stick which represented their outstanding enthusiasm throughout the week of camp. The cheerleaders supported each sport, cheering at football, volleyball, gymnastics, softball, baseball, wrestling, girls' and boys' soccer, swimming, track, cross country, tennis, basketball.

In addition to the time committed to just cheering, they performed in two competitions. At the Winter Competition, the cheerleaders won the Grand Championship Trophy for a terrific performance! This performance opened up with a strong tumbling pass, back handsprings, a basket toss front flip, with a successive basket toss toe touch, walking pyramids, and an enthusiastic dance. Because of their fine performance, the cheers were rewarded with a performance at a Denver Nuggets game in McNichols Arena. Even though this year's squad encountered many hardships, they pulled together and overcame them. They learned how a group can pull together and achieve desired goals.

Cheers

Mat Maids

This year the Mat Maids were full of spirit and enthusiasm as a result of our State Champion Wrestling Team. They were there to encourage the wrestlers and provide support throughout their successful season. The demand for Mat Maids is increasing year by year. With the leadership of Jodi Linville and Laurie Templeman, the Mat Maids put much time and energy into helping others and assisting the coaches. The Mat Maids main duties were to keep score and videotape at each dual match and at all the tournaments. They also kept the brackets up to date at tournaments, and helped run the Arvada West Invitational. A special thanks to Kay Woolley, for all her help, and to the booster club for their support throughout the year!!!

Cat Tales

Cat Tales is Arvada West's Award winning creative arts magazine. This is the fifth year Cat Tales has been published, and is the biggest and best it has ever been. In 1985 Cat Tales was awarded the Excellent ranking from the National Council of Teachers of English. Last year's Cat Tales was awarded the Superior ranking, which is the highest award available. Cat Tales publishes the best of Arvada West's poetry, short stories, essays and translations, as well as reproducing great artwork.

This year's Editor in Chief was Alisa Applegate, Visual Arts Editor, Brian Watson, Print Materials Editor, Amy Turner, and Proofreading Editor, Michelle White.

This year Cat Tales raised money through a Kiss-a-Pig contest. The faculty member with the most money had to kiss a pig at the February pep rally. The winner was Mr. McGregor.

Senior Daze '88

The 1988 graduating seniors of Arvada West are well on their way to brighter futures. The last few hours they had to spend with all their high school buddies were spent at the annual "Senior Daze."

Games, a disc jockey, and just relaxing were only a few things on the agenda for activities provided for the seniors. But good-byes and wishes a of good luck came as the end of their high school years slowly withered down to a halt. Memories of friendships, relationships, and mostly just good times will always be with them, the 1988 graduating class of Arvada West. We wish all of you only the best of luck always!

The 1988 Junior-Senior Prom was a big success, attracting over nine hundred Arvada West students and their dates! The theme this year was "Never Say Goodbye"; the colors were purple and silver, and the official flower was the white rose. Some of the special features at the dance, which was held at the Regency Hotel in Denver, were huge purple and white heart shaped balloon arrangement, music by Colorado Sound and Light, and pictures taken by Portrait World.

The highlight of the evening was the announcement of junior attendants and the crowning of the 1988 Prom King and Queen. The junior attendants included Ian Wood, Erika Leetmae, Kip Shreeve, and Amy Dowd. The senior attendants were Danny Alonzi, Julie Sanchez, John Sandoval, Jodi Bulmer, Jeff Popiel, and Tracy Lightner. Travis Ayers and Michelle Evans were announced the 1988 King and Queen.

Arvada West's annual after prom party was also a big success. The theme "How A-West Was Won" produced a western-style atmosphere. The activities, which were held at Arvada West, included miniature golf, hot tubs, casino games, and lots of free food. The evening of fun was topped off with prize drawings. Many thanks go to the parents and PTSA members for their hard work and excellent ideas!

FACULTY

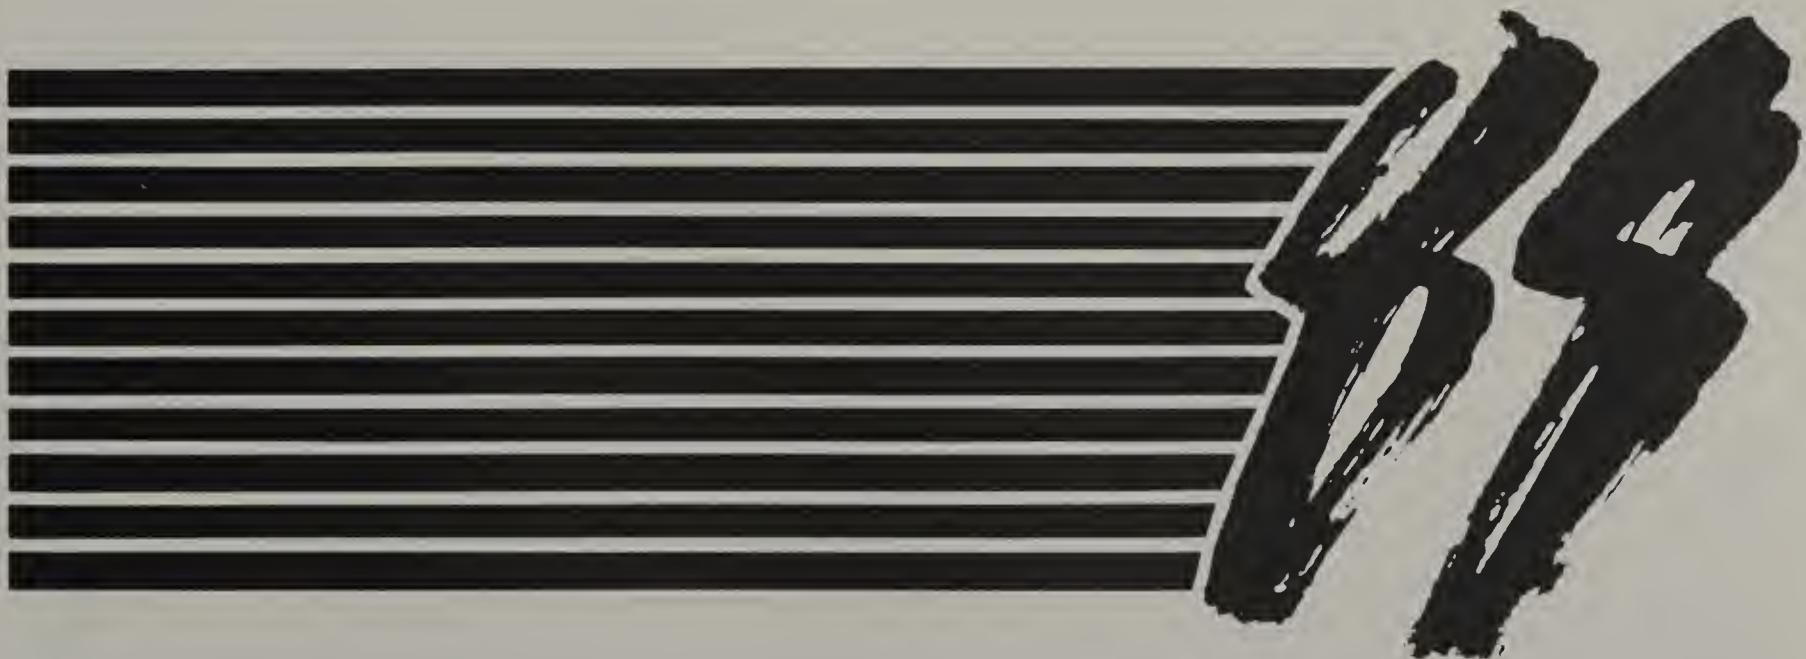

Academics are what school is all about. What is taught and learned in these classes provides the groundwork for the various jobs and professions students will pursue upon graduation.

Students choosing to pursue their goals can shape their classes during high school to fulfill their highest expectations.

In keeping with the wide variety of students at Arvada West, a variety of classes are offered.

Whether student interests lie in the mathematic, scientific, language arts, business or vocational areas, courses are available to fill every need.

In addition to the wide range of courses offered, a diverse staff provides a number of different teaching styles and experiences.

Administrators

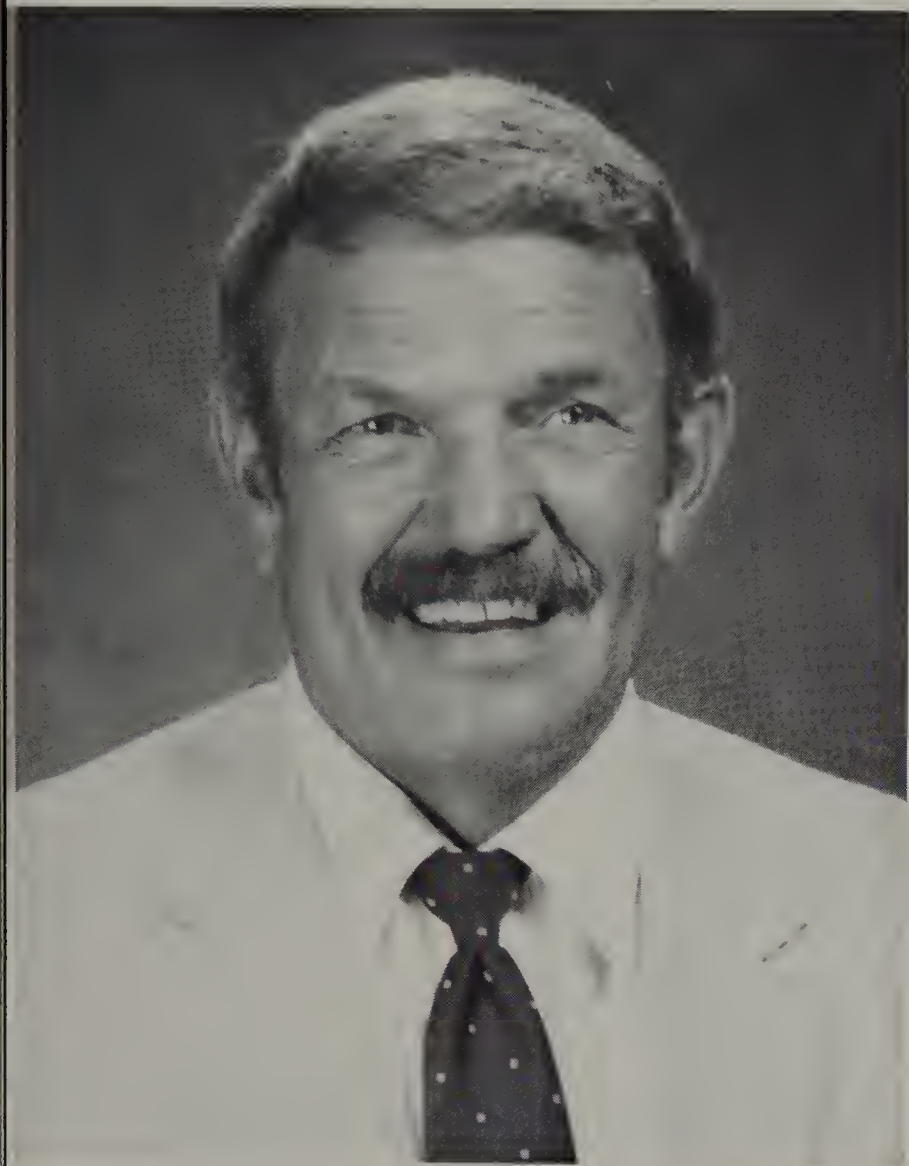

Ray Schneringer-Principal

Students, parents and staff at Arvada West are absolutely number one in my mind. Anyone associated with our school possesses a pride that is difficult to find. Someone once told me that when you ask a student from Arvada West to talk about how he or she feels about school, the answer is always, "I couldn't attend a better high school anywhere." I couldn't agree more with that statement.

CLASSES

The students of the 1987-1988 school year worked hard at their studies as well as their social lives. Priorities were at sometimes out of order but it was worth it to be able to experience the growth of relationships as well as friendships and the triumph of victory and the loyal feeling of cheering on the home team at any of A-West's extracurricular activities. Friendships and relationships were both made and broken but we've made it through another year of school. We now present to you our Wildcats' pride, the students of Arvada West High School.

Food. Food. Food

Cats Love To Eat Junk Food.

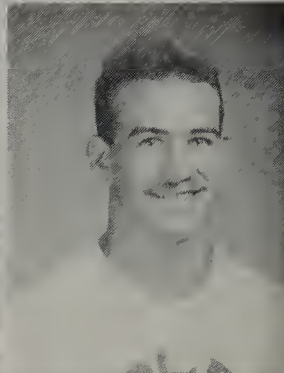

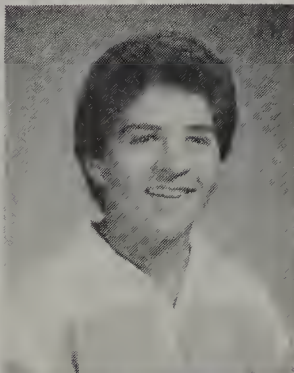

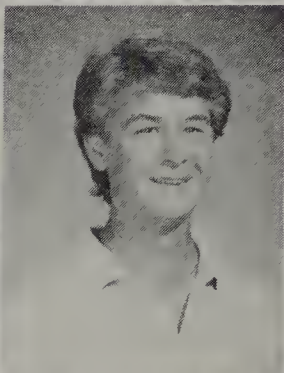

Life in the fast lane doesn't leave much extra time for many wildcats. That is, unless you have an hour off. These guys and gals all have one thing in common. An hour off. Of course this is only true if none of them is ditching. But at Arvada West the students aren't like that. (Ha! Ha! If they only knew!) Anyway whether students ditch or actually have a free hour, they can often be found in groups in the student center talking, laughing, doing homework. Yuk! But the most popular thing is food! Pop, candy, and chips are all included in the wide variety of nutritious foods that the student center has to offer. Of course students could always wait until lunch and eat some "real" food.

Snickers, Rolos, Nerds, and Doritos, can all be pleasing, but with Cheetos it ain't easy being cheezy! Cookies, doughnuts, pecan pies are all appealing to your eyes. Nachos, nachos, yum, yum, yum, eat them, eat them, one by one.

To Bus Or Not To Bus Parking Problems Pester Petulant People

Student parking has become a headache! Many students and residents are complaining about the congestion in the parking lot and along the side streets. This problem is due mostly to the lack of parking spaces. It's frustrating to become pinned in a parking spot until after 7th hour by inexperienced drivers who can't park correctly if their lives depended on it. Every day seems to be the same; 6th hour lets out and a lot of Wildcats logically file out of the parking lot without any problem. That is, of course, until a driver's inexperience shows through. He will carelessly make a U-turn across the street, without any regard for public safety; almost causing a 10-car pile up. Thus, because of this drastic situation, a simple, yet complete solution has been derived Sophomores, Take The Bus!!

Lack of parking at Arvada West has made many students late this year. Is there a simple solution to this problem? Would the lack of Sophomores in the student parking lot solve it?

Is It Dead?

I Thought I Saw A Cucaracha!

People have come to school for many years and many students have eaten school lunches. So far in the history of A-West there haven't been any fatalities due to consumption of school food. Some people believe that school lunches can cause some serious, long term side effects. As you can see, school food is taking its toll on these students. Especially this young lady, who seems to be having some difficulty chewing or it could be some of those notorious side effects! Check out these fine gentlemen. Are they really eating that stuff? I mean really. Look at those faces. They actually appear to be enjoying themselves. So they can't really be eating. (They just want to make the cooks feel better.)

Many students of Arvada West risk their lives every weekday not only by coming to school, but also by eating the food offered in the cafeteria. Some people feel this is too life-threatening and either bring their lunches or go out.

The Joanna And Dave Story

No! You can't have this! This briefcase contains highly confidential information. My accomplice and I have stolen all the answers to the many confusing tests and quizzes in physics. We used to ask ourselves, "Are we having fun yet?" Now we WILL be having fun knowing that we are breezing the tests while making money. How you ask? We plan to sell the answers for a high price. Next we book a flight to Tahiti and take a much deserved vacation! Sound like a great plan huh? What? You claim you have a fair trade? What is it? A new car, free lunch for a year? Peanut M&M's!? You call that a fair trade?! Me Too!!!

Students treasure any information possible that can be used for an upcoming test. Test questions and answers can be bought and sold for almost any price.

Are We Dazed?

Yes!! We Are Dazed!! Why?

Yes, we are now entering . . . the school light zone! Here we have what we call "dazed" like people. They have been found in a various amount of places around this school. However . . . the most common of these places would be . . . ah yes, CLASSROOMS! A common discussion among teachers- what causes this "dazed" zone in so many students? Could it be . . . Boring lectures? Lack of interest? Lack of sleep? Other girls? Other guys? Hunger pains? Friday night? Saturday night? The test last hour? Next hour? Or all of the above? Our teachers are flustered, the students are "dazed". Will we ever know? Will they?

This is one of our common everyday classes. And yes, we are finding a common past time of our every day students . . . Dazed City. What could possibly be better than this? Rotten Apples, Rainy Mondays?

Girl Earns Fame And Fortune By Balancing Doughnuts!

Can She Do It?

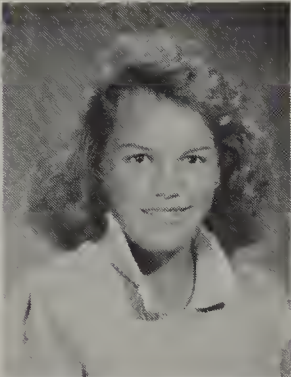

Yes folks this is a grandstand event . . . drum roll please . . . can she balance the doughnuts on her nose? The crowds are silenced in the background. You can hear the whimpers of the children. The drumming stops . . . the drop of the hands, yes . . . yes . . . the doughnuts are slowly being placed on top of this girl's nose. How long can she do it? Will she be able to maintain the stability and keep balanced those doughnuts atop her nose for much longer? The price of fame may only consist of a possible plastic cut from the wrapper or maybe a possible pulled neck muscle but it's well worth it to be known as the "girl who can balance 'le pack' on her nose," and the fortune she'll get is solely the popularity and title of a talented girl! The grand finale will be for Miss Kriss to balance the doughnuts on her nose while a straw is sticking out her ear.

Is this the only thing that Kris knows how to do on her free time? Some say she has many other talents others say this is her only one.

Hellp!!!

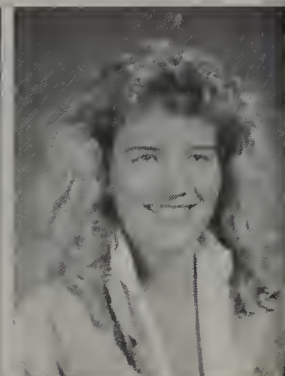

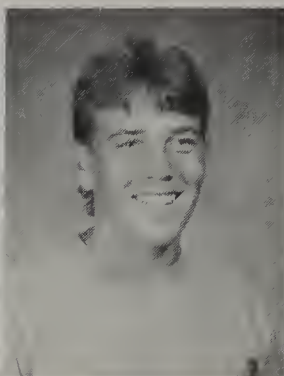

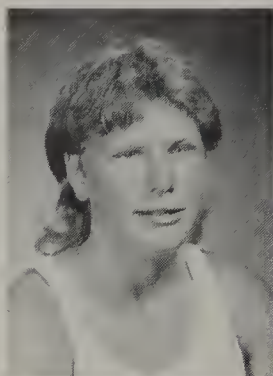

Siamese Twins Escape!

Yes, as we can see in this here photograph, sophomores as well as the school food, consumed in the Student Center as identified in the background by the wonderful and colorful decor of the west wall, do have very weird, amazing, surprising and very definitely mysterious effects on the average teenagers that are viewed sitting here. What is this? A growth coming out of their ears? And have their heads presently grown together? EEK!! Help! It's the killer siamese twins striking Arvada West High School and the entire student body. Who's next?! An advisable suggestion would be to keep a weary eye out for these two, or shall it be stated this one creature.

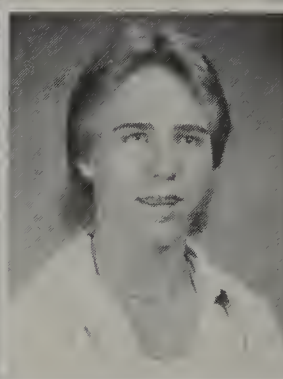

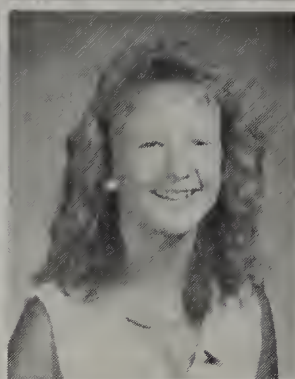

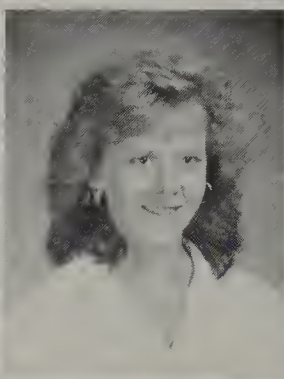

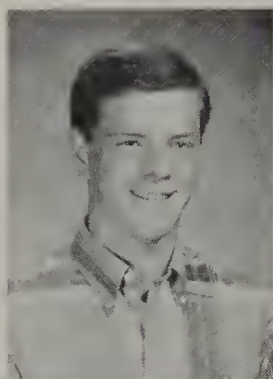

Tina and Jen are often known as weird, but in this here photo, their behavior is just a little bit on the extreme side. Furthermore, why do they have those . . . those . . . things sticking out of their ears? Are they really that bad off their rockers?

Help Wanted Here!

*Help Needed. Anybody Please!
Please Help Me; I Can't Decide!*

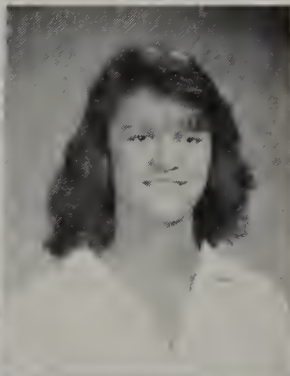

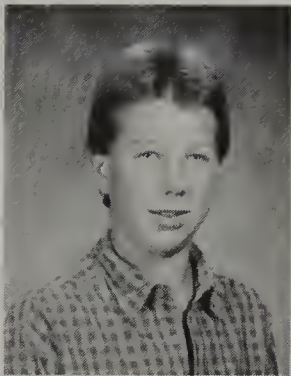

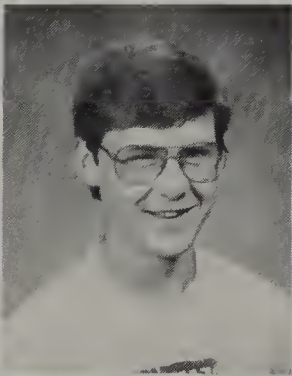

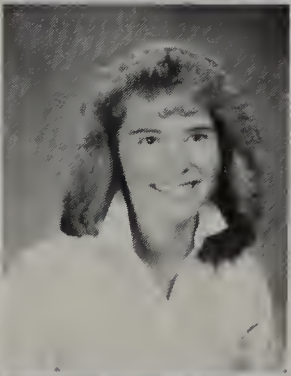

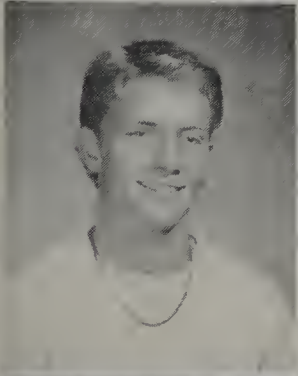

"What should I have?? Peach, Grape or Z7?!* Gosh I can't make up my mind! Eenie meenie miney moe ... Z7 it is! I wish all choices were that easy!" What is this sophomore talking about?! He hasn't even been in school long enough to worry about choices. This guy is gonna be in some deep trouble when it comes to college. "Where shall I go? Princeton? UCLA?

Decisions are sometimes megaconfusing. Have you ever been in one of those situations where you just can't decide? Tom here, however, can't even choose a flavor! Uh oh! He's in big Trouble!

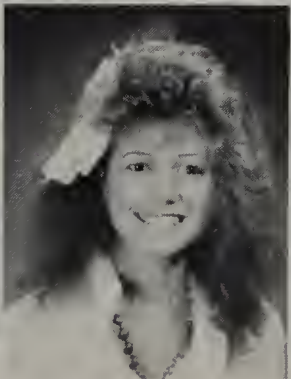

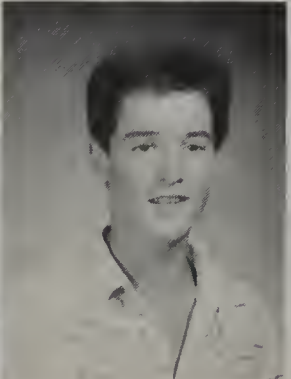

Metro, or maybe McDonald's! Oh, I don't know! Maybe I'll just stay home and major in couch potato economics." Would you let this guy make decisions for you? He can't even figure out if he wants to wear boxers or his gym shorts! Heck! He'll just wear both pairs. That way he doesn't have to make any more decisions, other than those that are absolutely, positively and essentially necessary for everyday living and functioning. Boy, I wonder how he even chooses what to put on in the morning!

Guilt Sets In!

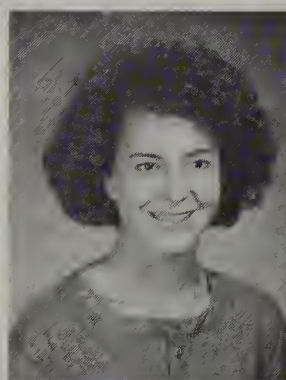

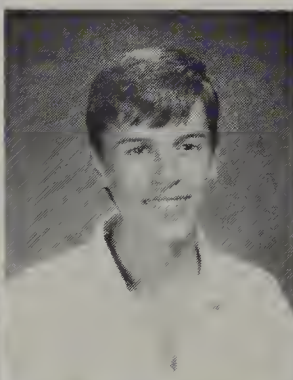

Guilty? Us? Nah!! Just because it looks obvious we're ditching, doesn't necessarily mean we are! I mean, honestly, do we seriously look like the guilty parties that just caused the fire drill? C'mon, be truthful we don't. Do we?

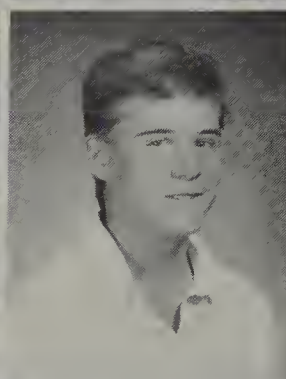

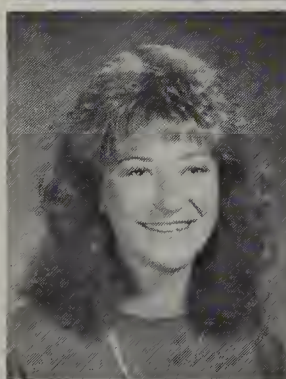

When ditching classes, it is sometimes necessary to try and remain inconspicuous! Or you might be spotted by Mrs. G!

New Creatures? Will Arvada West survive?

Yes, here we are again in one of our famous student center episodes. What is the situation today? Hmm, let's see . . . well who do we have here? Could it be a space alien from the planet Fiqupe? Who has come down to test human resources to see if earth has the essentials for the people of his planet to come to live. But hark-what if they are evil and hazardous?!? Could it be that this creature is holding these two innocent maidens captive? Yes, they may be smiling but who knows? Maybe they have been tortured and brainwashed to the extent that they only think that they're having fun. What will we do? Are these creatures so treacherous that certain doom is in our future?!?

Some people say that the Arvada West student center is one of the most exciting places on this earth. It seems that almost every day something new and exciting happens there. It appears that on this very day an alien from outerspace has appeared.

Caught Smooching

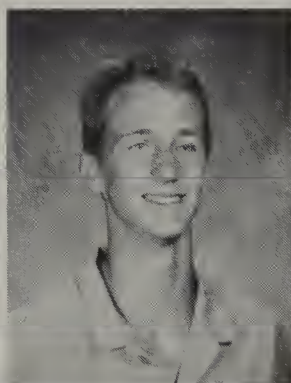

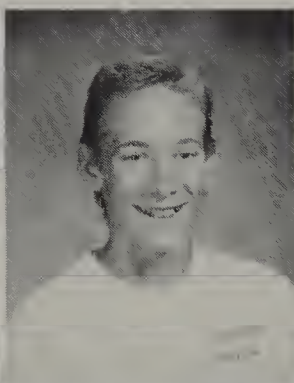

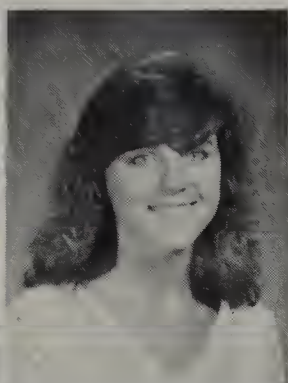

Will the photographer catch
Jamie's good side??

Oh Jamie, we're such a cuuute couple! Don't you think? I mean look at us who could make a better couple except for Pebbles and Bam-Bam?? But Connie cupcake, look our photograph is being taken. I do hope my hair looks alright.

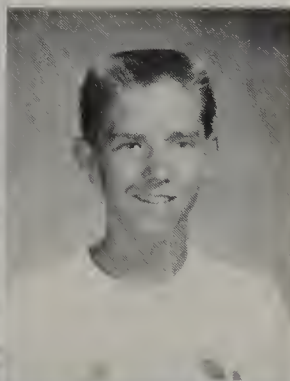

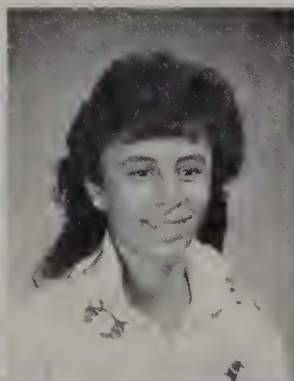

Well Jamie, dear, that shirt looks just simply divine on you. The color just goes perfectly with your eyes! Oh honey buns, Kiss Kiss! Love of my life. Apple of my eye . .

It appears in this photograph right here as though Connie was caught with Jamie in the hall smooching and wooing a "little white dove??"

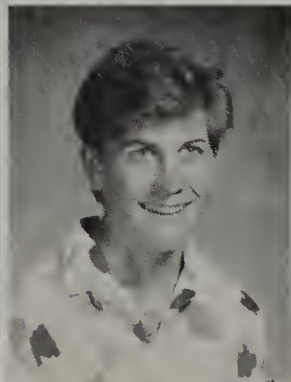

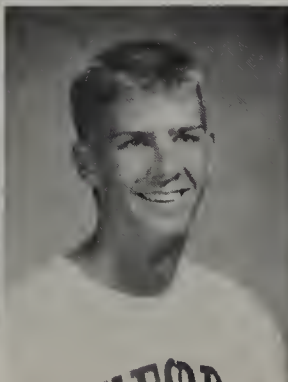

you are the only one for me! Let's try to make this picture cute, but mushy for all of our friends to remember us by. Alright, Connie, sweetums, but just remember which side is my good side. I wouldn't want a bad picture put in the yearbook for all to see! Okay, Jamie pumpkin pie! I'll change sides with you, but wait what's that? Up there? Look, a little white dove. You're my little white dove, Connie. Now look at the-

In Fond Memory

Jeff Jay

Dec. 26, 1970 -

Sept. 25, 1987

*When the sun falls, and the night calls;
We reach down deep inside, for feelings which we may hide.
And the only one that shows, is for someone we all know.
He was our friend until the end.
Although he's gone, his memories will live on.
Forever and ever, he'll remain in peace.
Let's hope these tragedies will soon cease.
We will always remember and mourn over the day,
Jeff Jay passed away.*

SPORTS

Sports is a topic almost everyone talks about. Sports demand a combination of physical skills and strength, and alert mind, enthusiasm, purpose, and usually team work. They represent accomplishment for which the body must be trained and for which a person must work to become skillful.

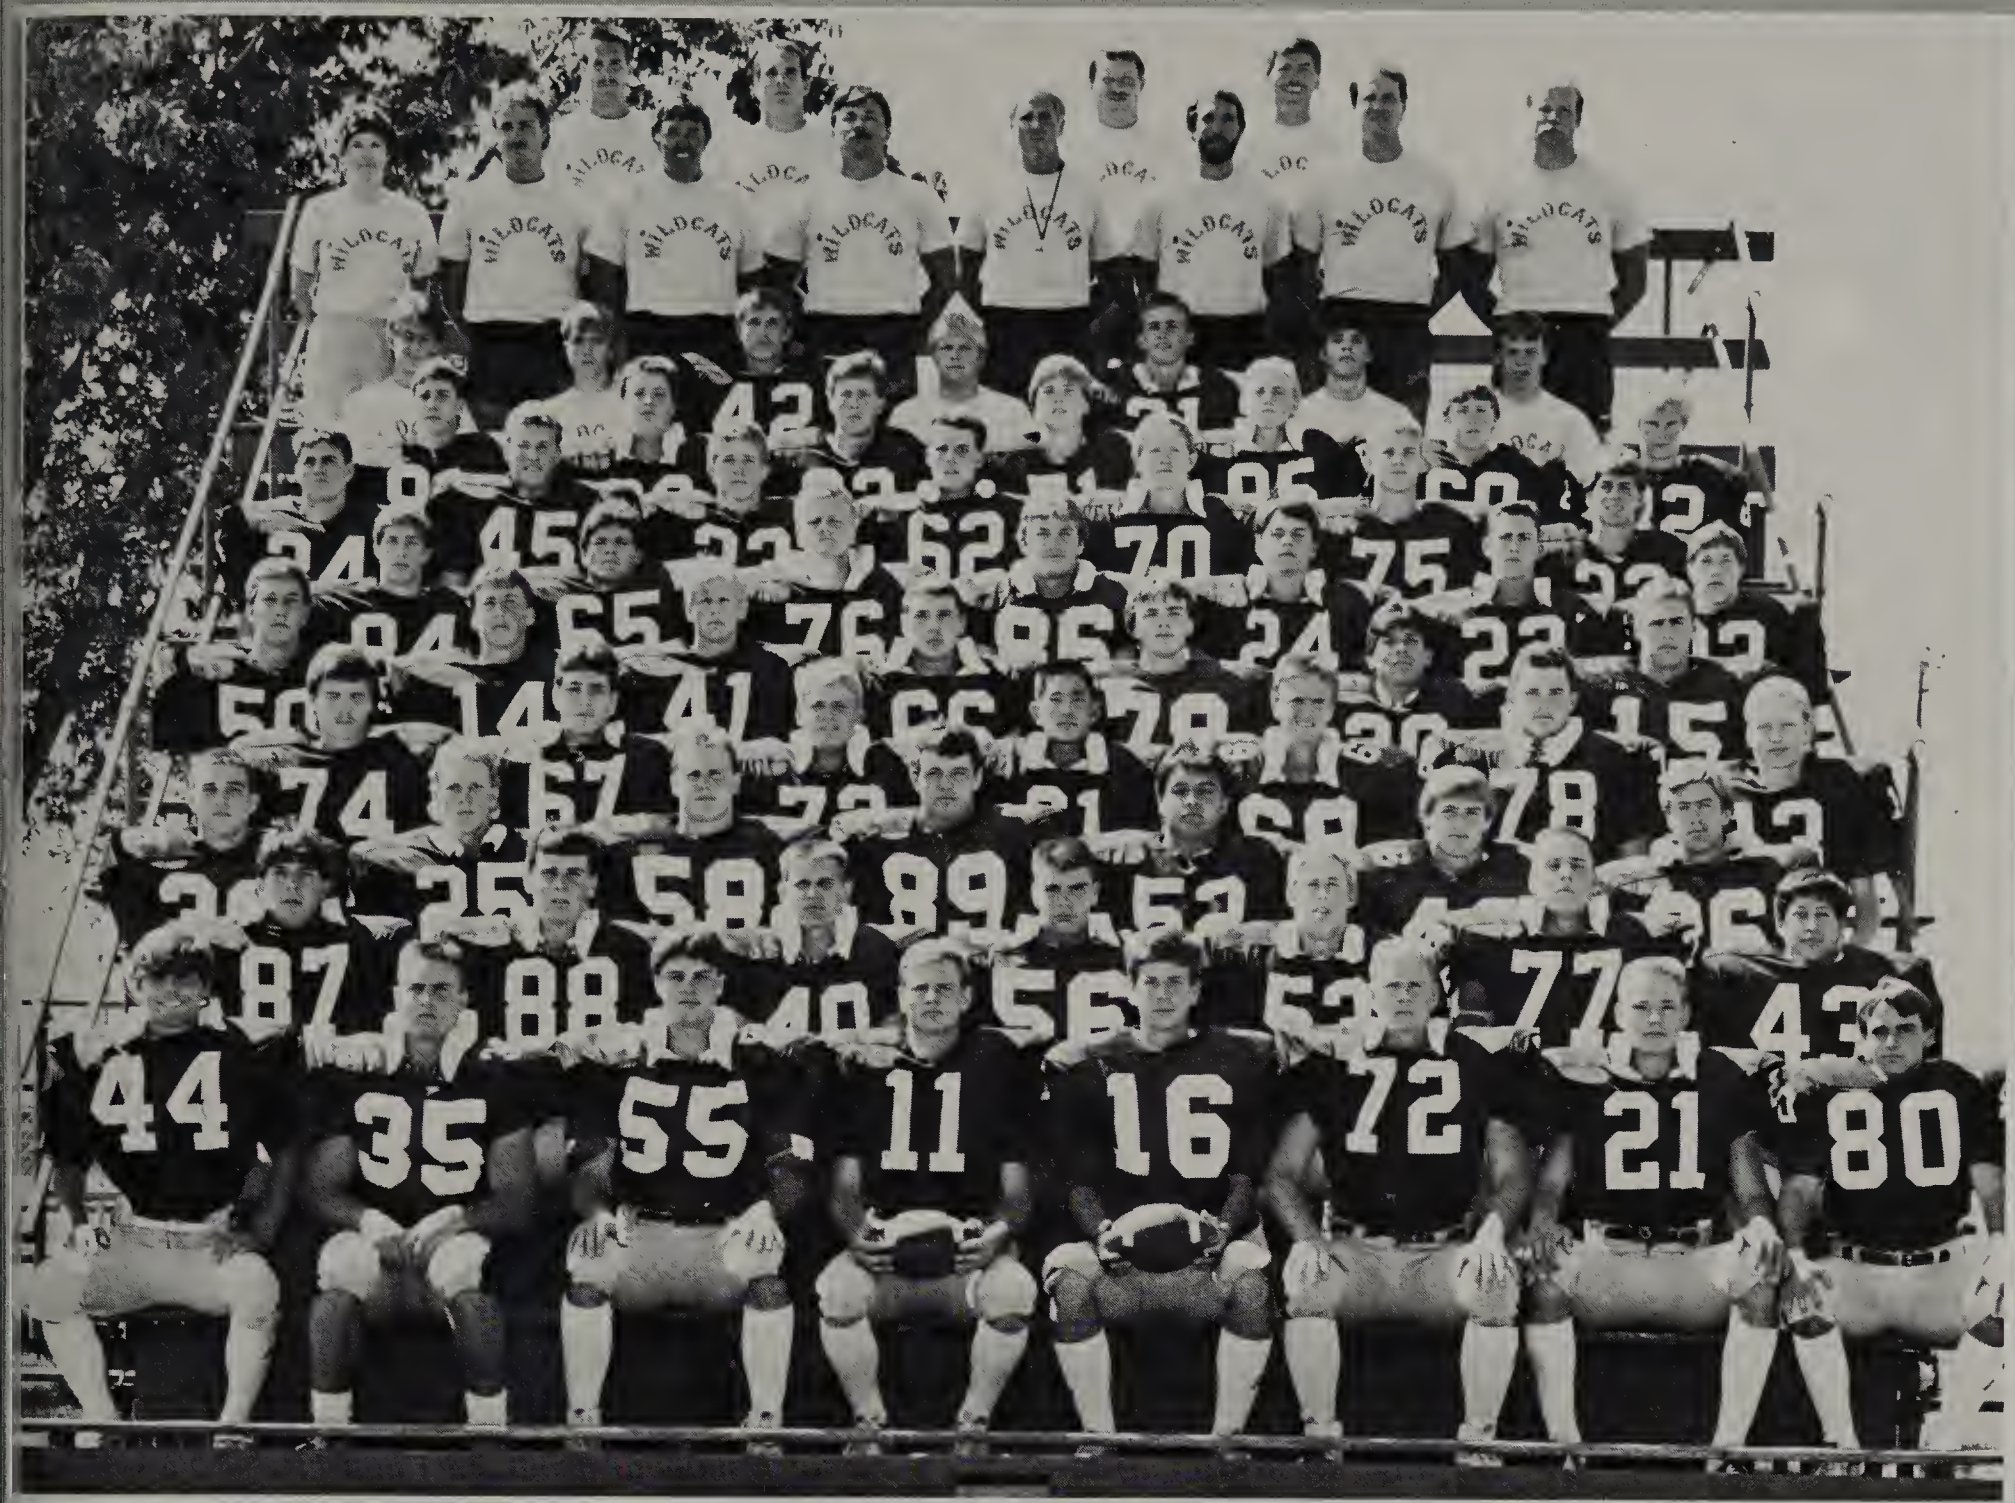

Many friendships are formed through sports, as a result of the teamwork shared by each team member. The ability of people to get along with each other receives one of its greatest tests in sports competition.

When the athletes first go into sports they expect a lot of fun. Once they get into it they find out practice is long a hard and they ask themselves "ARE WE HAVING FUN YET?"

The Wildcats started slowly in 1987. Most disappointing was a last second loss to highly rated Wheat Ridge. However, they opened Divisional play with a three game winning streak. First, they jumped on tenth ranked Evergreen 55-12 and then followed up with wins over Chatfield and Columbine to solidify a spot in the League Playoffs. There they defeated Bear Creek for the second time to gain a State Playoff berth. Although the score appeared one sided, the Cats came up with an emotional effort in their State game with Cherry Creek and the hitting was major league.

Other highlights included: The Football Banquet honoring the letter winners, special awards, and the Jan Pease senior send offs; an outstanding sophomore season for Coach Martin and his team; a JV win over St. Mary's Varsity; a record twenty-nine senior lettermen; seventeen returning junior lettermen; Chris Rogowski being the top Senior player — student with a 4.0 GPA; Kirk Bailey being selected by the players as most valuable; and finally very convincing impressions of Coach McGregor by Adam Geinitz (excluding an oversized weight belt).

Kirk Bailey, a senior who played defensive back, was a key factor in the outcome of the Varsity team. He has been on the team for three years but couldn't play his senior year due to a broken leg.

Kirk says he's always been athletic. His older brothers were the ones who encouraged him to get involved in sports.

Kirk is not quite sure if he would like to play football in college. He would like to go into journalism or sports medicine. Kirk says, "I'd just like to be successful in whatever I do."

Oh no! I forgot the snap count.

Despite starting the season with many inexperienced runners, the cross-country team managed to string together several impressive team and individual performances in the final weeks of the season. The freshmen and sophomore girls won the league championship, and the boys finished as league runner-up, led by league individual champion Jerell Klaver. Then at the District meet, the boys won their second consecutive District championship, led All-Conference runner Keith Boettiger, Mark Dunn (second team All-Conference) and Craig Dowell (Honorable Mentions All-Conference). The junior varsity boys, led by individual champion Bryan Rodriguez, were District runner-up. The girl's varsity finished sixth and the junior varsity was District runner-up.

The boys varsity, by virtue of their District championship win, went on to compete at the State Meet where they finished 19th. Top state finished was Keith Boettiger, 30th individual in a field of 200 runners.

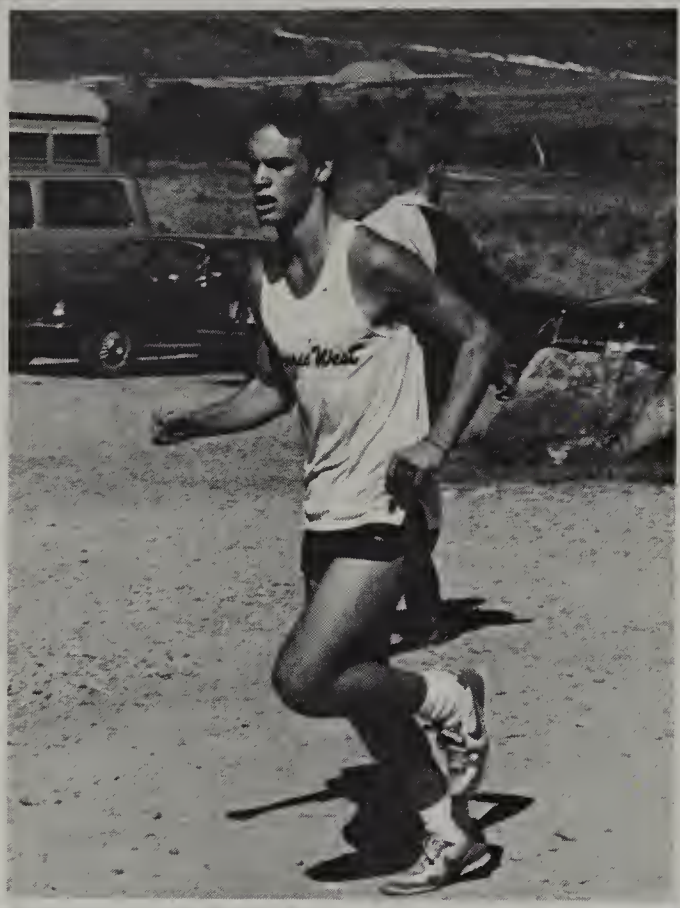

Running X-Country requires a lot of effort, but being the number one member on the team takes something extra. Craig Dowell and Kelly Monsma have that something special.

Craig, a junior has been in X-Country since he was a sophomore. He has won many award for being in the top twenty.

Kelly, also a junior has participated in X-Country for two years. Kelly says she's really enjoyed working with the team.

The soccer team this year started out slowly but improved with each passing game. The team experienced many problems, such as injuries and numerous red and yellow cards, but they pulled through to win their last three games.

The final standing of the team: 3 wins 8 losses, doesn't look impressive on paper, but it fails to tell the whole story. The losses were always by low scores, usually 1 - 0, showing the soccer team has a great defense.

One of the high points of the season, the team agrees, was beating Arvada who was ranked 6th in the state. The JV. team ended up second in league for the year in a row. Eric Goslau enthusiastically pointed out, "Even though we lost, the fans support was great."

V stands for victory everybody

The 1988 girls' soccer team had another undefeated season. For the ninth year straight the Lady Wildcats advanced to the state play-offs. When the team advanced to the state play-offs, they played such teams as Lewis Palmer, Denver East, and Columbine before advancing to the finals against Arapahoe for the second straight year.

All those who attended the state final game knew it was an exciting one. The Wildcats dominated the first half, leading 2-0. Soon after the second half began, Arapahoe scored two goals to tie the game. The state final game ended in a shootout, and Arapahoe captured the state title. It was a bitter loss for the team, but there couldn't have been two better matched teams. The team compiled a 14-1 record for the season, the only loss being in the state championship. The team outscored their opponents 18-4 in the state playoffs and had a tremendous season. The team is looking forward to next year in which they plan to have another successful season.

The dribble, what an art.

Protect thy chest.

I was nominated last year for first team all-conference and first team all state. Later in the summer, I was selected to travel with the regional team to Washington D.C. In the fall of 87' I was selected All-American and the sports-woman of Colorado. My first year in high school I was picked M.V.P. in Jefferson County. I was a part of a state championship team in 87'.

No you fool, you dance heel toe, heel toe.

Senior Tracy Morley played third base for the Arvada West softball team. Tracy has been playing softball for eight years.

Tracy made all conference and was selected to play in the all state game this spring.

When asked about the team, Tracy replied, "The team worked well together and had a lot of fun." She also said that Arvada West was the best team she ever played for.

Successful Softball Season! The softball team finished the 1987 season with a sparkling 15-6 record! The 15 win season was bettered by only four other teams in the state. Highlights of the year included big wins over Alameda, Overland, Chatfield, and Douglas County. Senior Tracy Morley was named first Team All-Conference, and seniors Sammie Chergo, Sallie Hughes, and Kristi Staab earned Second Team honors. The JV team, 30-2 over the past two seasons, finished the year as Jeffco JV champs!

Whew, Headrush!

This year in gymnastics a Pilot program was introduced and instead of 6 girls, only 5 were allowed to compete in each event. Naturally, due to this, team scores were lowered considerably. We may have not had the winning season we had last year, but we were successful in that we improved 100% from the beginning to the end of the season. We finished 11th in district with a district record of 4-7. We finished 4th in our District. Our highest team score we achieved was 116.6. Overall I feel we had a very good season and made a lot of accomplishments.

— Coach Borrego

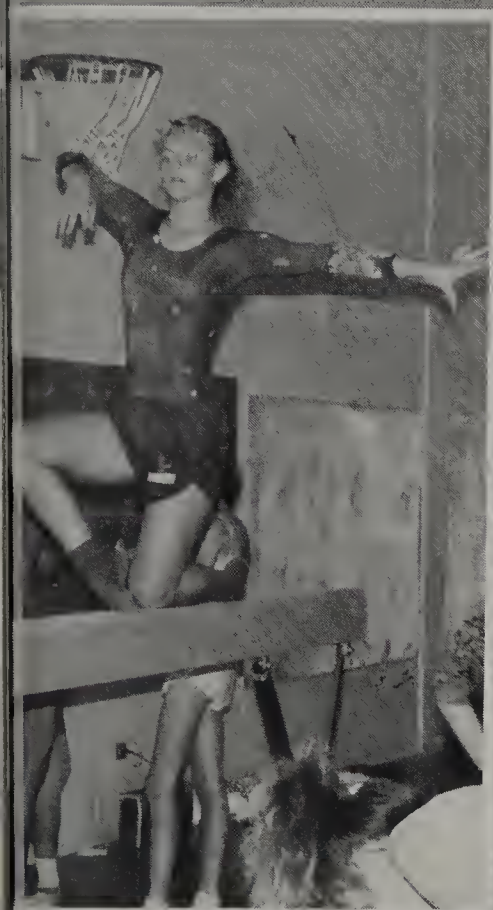

Marianne Desanti, a junior, was voted outstanding player for the Arvada West gymnastic team. She got started in gymnastics when she was eleven years old at Arvada Gym and placed in the all arounds in all of her meets. When she graduates she is hoping for a scholarship. Marianne says, "Overall, the season has been really good, and hopefully next year will be better with all the freshmen."

Forty girls went out for the team. Thirty-four girls stuck with it, it was the largest team ever in swimming.

Erika Leetmae began swimming when she was ten and has been swimming ever since. She has won the state championship in the 100 and 200 m. butterfly, her favorite stroke, since she was 14. Right now, Erika is considering trying out for either the 1988 or 1992 Olympics depending on her speed.

This year as in many other years Coach Barrows and his golfers had a special closeness. They often shared experiences and problems with each other.

The team spent many hours practicing after school and on their own time to prepare for their matches.

The team opened the season with a 4th place win over 24 teams at Estes Park. And closed the season with 9th place in state.

Senior Kevin Kirchmar has been on the Arvada West golf team for three years and has really enjoyed playing on the team.

Kevin started playing golf when he was nine years old "My father was the one who encouraged me to play golf," says Kevin. Kevin's future plans are to go to college and major in business. Someday Kevin would like to become a professional golfer.

Hey, look at me Dad!

This year the girls' golf team finished 8th in the Jeffco league and 10th in state.

The girls who lettered were Ginger Croy, a senior, who lettered for the third time, Maureen Neuroth, a senior, who also lettered for the third time, Jocelyn Wilson, a junior, who lettered for the second time, and Cassie Hardison and Becca Zeiler, sophomores, who both lettered for the second time.

The most valuable player for the 1987-88 season was Ginger Croy. Ginger finished in the top 15 in both league and state.

Ginger Croy, the most valuable player for golf, started playing golf when she was 11 years old. She played on the Rolling Hills Jr. golf team, and plans on playing non-competitive golf in the years to come.

Her achievements at A-West were to letter and be the sophomore MVP her first year. Her junior year she was the #1 player, the MVP, placed 12th in state and league and lettered for the second year. Her senior year she was the #1 player and the MVP. She placed 12th in league and 15th in state. She also lettered for the third year.

This year 1987-88 I had a very successful season accomplishing all the goals I set for myself. I won the 3A State Wrestling Championship along with my team winning the State Title. I won awards such as Dr. Pepper athlete of the month, Jeffco athlete of the month, & Little Ceasars athlete of the week. This year recorded a very successful year for me and I think the coaches and A-West.

The meaning of pain, "GUILLOTINE"

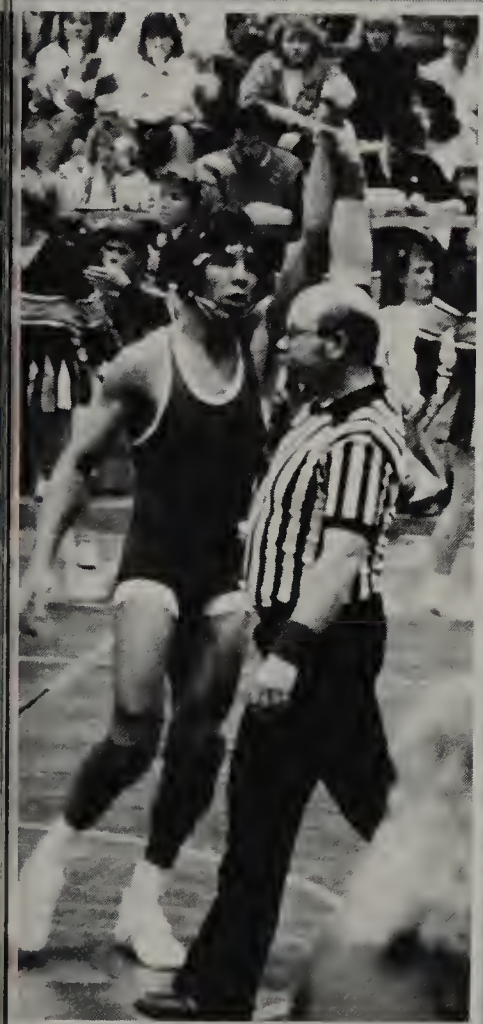

The Wildcat wrestling team, for the third year in a row produced a perfect 9-0 league record. Throughout the past three years, the seniors compiled thirty-one consecutive dual meet wins out of thirty one. For the past two years, the Wildcats have captured the League Championship and District Championship with five district champions, five runner up's, and one third place.

The district champions were: Gary Hindeman, Kerry Giambrocco, Doug Buchanan, Artie Hagelgans, and Luke Davis.

The district runner up's were: Jason Gregerson, Cam Candalaria, Andy Free, Kevin Montoya, and Mitch Blain. Third runner-up was Doug Hawkins.

After placing first at the Brighton Invitational tournament and capturing first in the Gateway, Chatfield, second in the Heritage, and Thompson valley, and third at the A-West invitational, the Wildcats had high hopes going into the State Tournament with eleven State qualifiers.

In the state tournament, every senior wrestler on the team earned important team points by placing three grapplers in fifth place, one fourth place, two thirds, and one State Championship from the HWT. Luke Davis. The team captured the state title, setting a state scoring record of 133 points and being the first Jeffco Wrestling team to be honored with a State Championship.

It was a very tough year, especially considering our win-loss record. We felt all along that if we could have just won one league game early in the year, it would have given our guys the confidence they needed to win a lot more. But, we had a bunch of "survivors" and not one of the guys ever gave up, even in our last game of the season. It amazed me that every practice the guys came to play hard and had great attitudes.
We played the division leaders very close and were one shot away from winning a handful of games, including a triple-overtime loss to Chatfield. You wouldn't think you could get much out of a 1-17 season.
But, I think our Seniors set a great example of perseverance to our younger players.
And, I believe, with the type of players we had and the type of players we have returning, this year was a great stepping-stone for the overall basketball program's future. I am very thankful to be a part of Arvada West. I coached some young basketball players that I know will go far in life.

The Lady Wildcats continued to improve and this year moved into the upper echelon of the Jeffco League by finishing third in rugged Division Two. The "Cats" posted a 10-10 record, but eight of the ten losses came to teams ranked in the state's top ten! This year's team was known for its fast breaking and pressing style, and the Wildcats were definitely exciting to watch. Seniors Sammie Chergo, Tracy Morley, Michelle Martinez, and Leslie Van Stelten led Arvada West with plenty of support from juniors Stephanie Schroeder and Stacey Eggers. Exciting sophomore Jill Jakowich was named the team's Most Improved Player.

My senior year I was named first team All-Conference, first team All-State, Jefferson County All Star Team, Jefferson County league M.V.P., and team M.V.P.

The District Champions and All Conference performers were: Scott Anderson, Keith Boettiger, Jeff Flight, and Matt Porter. At the state level, Keith Boettiger was State Runner-up in the 800 Meters. He also did very well at Districts where he placed in three separate events. Mark also shares a spot on the team which broke the school record for the Distance Medley Relay. His team members include Keith Boettiger, John Sandoval, and Scott Robson. Because of his many accomplishments, Mark, who was a 4.0 student and the valedictorian for the 1988 Senior Class, was named the Most Valuable Player for all of Jefferson County. Now that his high school days are over, Mark will be attending Colorado State University on a scholarship that he received this year. We all wish him the best of luck.

The boys' varsity tennis team took the league title for the fourth year in a row. They finished second in District and sent seven qualifiers to State. They were Todd Harwood, Greg Beechlor, Andres Aloel, Eric Jagers, Artie Wilkowsky, Chris Kelly, and Emilo Mora. Kelly and Mora made it to the finals.

Coach Pontis contributes the continued strength of the A-West Tennis program to his large squad, good Assistant Coaches, and the year round play of the varsity players.

The Assistant Coaches who helped were Tom Sabus, who worked with the varsity and Jan Hunsacker and Pat Holmlund with the Junior varsity. Head coach Jack Pontis also believes the team's strength, year after year, comes from his Junior Varsity hitting and challenging more than any other team in the league. The Assistant coaches made this possible.

The undefeated 11-0 city and league championship season was somewhat of a pleasant surprise to Coach Ponis. He didn't expect the team to do as well as they did because of the inexperienced players that made the varsity eleven. He thinks the success was because of the assistant coaches he had helping. They were Mike Reed, Kevin Ponis, Todd Harwood, and Chris Lindstrom. With all of this help, he was able to give more individual attention to the varsity and junior varsity players in the way of drills and strategy. The Saturday workouts, the three days over spring break when most teams do nothing and the inside practices when the weather was bad also helped their tennis skills and conditioning. The number of players competing for those eleven spots also brought about good attendance at practice. They knew they couldn't miss, or they would fall down four spots on the ladder. Eleven wins and no loses in league play, 2nd in district with six state qualifiers was a great season for the Wildcat Netters.

Cary A. Israel,
President
Front Range Community College

"Our degrees work for you, the high school graduate. Consider the Associate Degree as a low-cost, high quality option. The A.A. Degree is the employable degree in technical fields OR is transferable to four-year colleges."

In May 1987, Front Range Community College awarded over 500 Associate Degrees and Certificates. Last year over 5,000 students attended our college to enter a major of their choice OR to explore before making a career decision. Let our expert career/employment counselors help you with that crucial decision.

Nationally, 55% of all freshmen taking college credit courses are enrolled at community colleges. They are taking the Associate Degree option.

Our alumni say, 'Front Range is a good place to begin. Front Range has caring professors who helped me gain confidence and self-esteem.' A FRCC alumni and University of Colorado graduate said, 'I would never have graduated from college if I had not attended Front Range first. The small classes and caring professors gave me the skills and confidence to graduate from CU.'

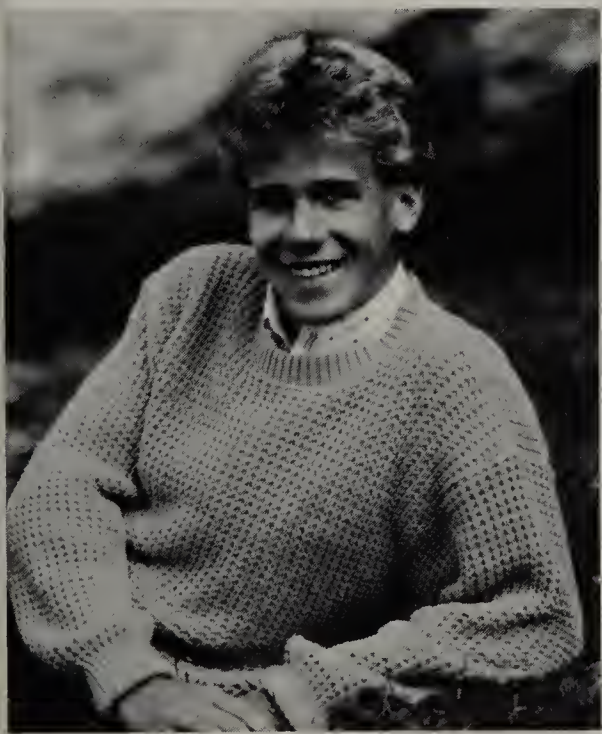

Give our degrees the opportunity to work for you. Enroll and enjoy the low-cost, high-quality, employable, transferable Associate Degree.'
